CONGRATULATIONS, BENJAMIN HOOKS

Congratulations to Benjamin Hooks, who officially took over the leadership reins at the conclusion of the national convention of the NAACP last month.

Hooks faces a major challenge to fill the shoes of the venerable Roy Wilkins as the executive secretary of the nation's oldest and largest civil rights organization; yet Benjamin Hooks's performance throughout an adult life of activism has demonstrated that he certainly has the skills and dedication necessary to get the job done.

THE FACTS welcomes the new executive secretary's announcement at the St. Louis annual convention that he will spearhead a massive drive to recruit new membership; and we pledge our unstinted support.

The monumental struggles that lie ahead in civil rights require not only a marked growth in NAACP membership but also new directions and new resourcefulness in gaining more than lip-service support from the 24.5 million Black Americans who do not now belong to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

If NAACP is once again to emerge as the major source in the struggle for racial justice in this nation, there must be a reinvigorating coalescence around the new leadership team of Margaret Wilson, chairman of the Board of Directors, and Benjamin Hooks the executive secretary. RIGHT ON!

SMACL Gains Commitments From Five Absentee Landlords; Pursues a Sixth

Tac Facts Aug 17 77

A determined group of hilltop residents was successful this past week in getting three delinquent absentee landlords to begin cleaning and repairing their properties. And at a neighborhood meeting last night, the group gained commitments from two other absentee landlords that much needed work would begin on their properties as well. A sixth absentee landlord, Wayne Giles, owner of an overgrown and hazardous vacant lot at 1611 South "M" street, has thus far ignored the groups demands for action, and the neighbors are planning further strategies.

The absentee owners who have thus far complied with SMACL's demands are: Pierce County, owner of the vacant lot on the north side of South 16th Street between Sheridan and Cushmand; Tacoma Housing Authority, owner of the vacant house at 1701 S. Ainsworth; Bertram P. Weinman, buyer of the vacant house at 1506 S. Sheridan; Mr. Herbert Tisdale, owner of the vacant lot at 1209-11 South 16th Street; and Mr. Bob Smith, owner of three houses at 1701-03-05 South "L" Street.

In the recent hot weather, the presence of unkept vacant lots and houses presents a severe fire hazard to their neighborhood, members of SMACL pointed out at their meeting. The group, which has held a very successful neighborhood clean-up program over the past several weeks, intends to pursue their campaign until Wayne Giles and other delinquent landlords begin assuming responsibility for their properties in the hilltop nieghborhood.

BLACK WOMEN'S CAUCUS TO MEET

The Pierce County Black Women's Caucus proudly presents Ellensburg: 56 Hours Isn't Forever. With a cast of hundreds including you, your family and friends it will co-star Thelma Jackson, Chairperson of the Washington State Black Women's Caucus. Please come and share the gains we won at the Washington State Conference for Women. This hardhitting, action-packed drama will be presented at the Tacoma Urban League, 2550 So. Yakima, Saturday, August 20, 1977 at 11:00 a.m. The show ends at 1:00 p.m.

Twenty-three of Washington State's 24 delegates to the National Women's Conference in Houston support the Equal Rights Amendment. What resolutions or concerns will they take to Houston? What's being done to preserve state-wide black women's support for human rights? These and more questions will be explored and answered.

WANDA SAYS

MAKE IT

One time, I spent a few weeks with my grandparents, when they were living at Union. Union is just outside of Tahlequah, Oklahoma, about 8 miles. All of their children had grown up and were away from home except one son, Uncle Lester.

Lester is about 6 years older than I am. Oh, I was probably about 7. A child of that age can get bored if there isn't much to do, at night especially. Being from a larger family, we always had something to do at night. But there they didn't have the things that smaller kids like to do. So one night Lester got a cardboard box and on the bottom he drew a checker board. Then he colored the black squares and left the others brown. We were all set except for checkers. So we were smart, we used bottons. After that, we spent many more happy hours playing checkers. I have heard a real good saying, "If you don't have it, make it". How true that is.

How many of us today just sat around being bored just because we want to? How many of us can find something to do. Let's try something. Some morning get up a little earlier and get your housework done. Then call a friend that you haven't called in a long time. Invite her over for lunch or coffee. Spend a few hours getting to know her better.

How about learning something new to do, something with your hands. I did something today I had never done before. I put a small appliance motor together again. I am always trying to learn something new.

Don't tell me that it was a man's job. If I left everything for my husband to do, it would never get done. I learned how to thread pipes for plumbing. I learned how to put in washers in fawcets. I've put in electrical plugging.

Hey, women, we aren't so dumb. Learn how to do these things and so them. You'll have more time with your husband when he does come home.

GIRDLE BLIGHT WITH A GREENBELT

By Kevin McKenzie

According to Edward Winckley, the Broadway Plaza, the community center under construction at 16th and K, mini-parks, and other short term city center improvement projects do as much good for the downtown Tacoma-Hilltop area as bandaids do for a heart attack.

"When a woman has cancer in her breast, it does little good to put a wig on her head and polish her nails with red," expressed Mr. Winckley. "That is what Tacoma is doing to this area, painting her nails."

Reverend Edward Winkley D.D., O.S.L.; world traveler, editor, author, and founder of Healing Homes of America and Africa, was instrumental in creating Tacoma's Metropolitan Development Council (MDC), the Hilltop Day Care Center, and a block of highly successful senior citizen's apartment buildings. After a seven year absence from the Tacoma scen, Mr. Winkley is back, and is currently advocating a long-term plan titled the "Tacoma Hilltop Greenbelt Development."

The proposed "greenbelt would be an oasis of landscaped green grass, trees, fountains, paths, flower beds, and benches amid the polluted, blight ridden, traffic torn area of South I Street. Both sides of South I between the new St. Joseph Hospital and the First Lutheran Church; presently occupied by substandard, ghetto-like houses and overgrown vacant lots with few exceptions; would eventually be vacated, and a broad, attractive strip of green would beautify and rejuvenate Tacoma's civic center.

New or refurbished residences would face the greenbelt, housing 500 to 5,000 people. Ten percent of the new housing would be built to attract high income residents, and 45% would be designed for middle income residents, and 45% would be low income housing. Forty-year mortgages would make such housing affordable to all concerned.

Mr. Winckley believes that the best location to begin would be the 1500 block of S. I Street, the site where a mini-park was promised to the senior citizen's aprtment tenants seven years ago. No stone was ever turned.

The Tacoma Hilltop Greenbelt sounds like a far fetched idea, but then, so did landing on the moon, as Edward Winckley put it.

YOUNG AIR FORCE WIFE TAKING RABIES SHOTS

McCHORD AFB, WA -- Medical personnel here are trying to find a cat which attacked a nineteen year old Air Force wife on the afternoon of August 9, 1977. The young woman who is seven months pregnant, was bitten on the foot while she was standing outside of her apartment home. The cat is described as fully-grown, short-haired, brown, black, white and yellow with tiger-striped markings around its neck and shoulders. The bite occurred in the residential area between interstate 5 and the McChord AFB Main Gate. The youna woman was admitted to Madigan Army Medical Center and was started on a series of rabies shots. Unless the cat is found, the woman will have to complete a full series of 21 rabies shots. Anyone who has any information about an cat on or near McChord AFB that might fit the description of the cat and that might have been in the residential area near McChord AFB on the afternoon of Tuesday August 9, should immediately contact McChord Veterinary Services at 984-5897 or McChord USAF Clinic Emergency Room at 984-5601.

Washington Mutual's step-rate home loan. It lightens the load in the early years.

You're young. On your way up. With good income that's getting even better. But – let's face it – it's still a tight squeeze money-wise in the early years.

That's why we devised our unique Step-Rate Loan for homes with a maximum purchase price of $50,000. In Effect, it lets you pay less when you have less, and more when you have more.

Talk to a friend at Washington Mutual about our Step-Rate Home Loan. We can go a long way in taking a load off your shoulders.

Here's an example of how it works, based on a $40,000, 30-year loan:

Years 1-2	8%	$293.60 per mo.
Years 3-4	8.75%	$314.00 per mo.
Years 5-6	9.25%	$327.20 per mo.
Years 7-30	9.75%	$340.40 per mo.

The Annual Percentage Rate, carried to maturity, would be 9.5%. Loan fee, 2 to 2½% of loan amount, plus customary closing costs. And, there's no prepayment penalty. Other features: We consider you more on your credit strength, and less on the neighborhood or age of the house. Single family property eligible if it meets minimum health and safety codes and is intended for your occupancy.

TEE & TURF GOLF CLUB NEWS

Earl (Sorry About That) Goodlow, Sam Moorehead, Charles Carrington.

By Morgan Giles

Wee, the day has come and gone, and for once I'm glad to see a beautiful day go. If you don't know why, I will tell you. The Tee & Turf Golf Club played a round of golf at the place they call Gold Mountain Golf Course and it was a real mother for ya. My day was not so good and so was a lot of others that had scores in the nineties that should have an 80 but that is the way it is sometimes. We played Blind Partners Wait One! We have the players of the week. Low Gross was Mr. Earl (Sorry About That) Goodlaw with a 76. Low net was a tie, Mr. Carrington and Mr. Moorehead. The other winners were Jenkins-Harris 145, Waluatul-Porter 143, the rest forget it for this week. We will not have another chance at Gold Mountain again this year. But we will have another good course to play and that is Spanaway Golf Course and that is no easy course to push over. Tee time is next Sunday at 10:30 a.m. Before I go I want to thank Mrs. Matthew for coming from Fir-State Golf Club in Seattle to play with us. Hope that you had a good time and play with us again next Sunday. Hope that we see a lot of memgers also next Sunday.

See you on the lst tee.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Everybody get ready! Carter has repealed Emancipation and is presenting us with "Slavery 1977" which we who are on Welfare get starring roles in at $2.30 per hour plus the bonus of "owing our souls to the Company Store". We are being shown the utmost consideration by Big Jim, too. We don't (no mo') have to get out and tromp the streets looking for work we can do. The Massa' himself will pick us a job. If by some rare turn of a fluke event, we don't happen to be able to do that job or if we hate it or it makes us sick, then we just can't get no more to eat!

Sincerely,
Esmeralda Jefferies

Public Hearing Set on New Unemployment Bill

On July 3, a law was passed that will eliminate 89,000 unemployed from collecting benefits.

This law says that:

1) If you quit your job or are fired you no longer qualify for benefits.
2) Students can no longer receive benefits.
3) A worker can now be forced to take a job in their trade at any wage or have their benefits taken away.
4) The requirement hours worked has been changed from sixteen weeks or 600 hours to 680 hours.

When a law is passed like this one the state is required to hold public hearing to set the regulations on how the bill is to be implemented. The hearing for this law is being held on August 18 at 9:00 a.m. in Olympia. We are calling on the public to come to his hearing and speak out about how this law is affecting you.

As one member of the Unemployed Workers Organizing Committee put it, "Unemployment in this country has been a sore for a long time and its getting worse. There are no decent paying jobs and yet we see our unemployment benefits being taken away."

We urge anyone who is interested in going to this public hearing to contact us at 627-4795.

AUGUST 27 MARCH & RALLY TO DEFEND WOMEN'S RIGHTS

"Defend women's rights, March and Rally on Saturday, August 27th," was the point made again and again by the speakers at a media conference called by the August 27 Action Coalition to Defend Women's Rights. The march will take place on Saturday, August 27th, leaving Broadway Plaza near Sear's at 12:00 noon and proceeding to Wright Park at the Bandstand. There at 1:00 p.m. a program of speakers and entertainment will focus on important issues including the right to choose abortion, passage of the ERA, childcare, and an end to forced sterilization.

Elsie Schrader, chairperson of the State Women's Committee, AFL-CIO, voiced her concern about "the need for women to make choices freely, about their own lives and their own bodies." She emphasized the importance of the ERA and the continuing need to state the actual wording of it as well as its intent. She along with others, urged a "large turn out for August 27th."

Linda Malanchuk, coordinator of the Pierce County Women's Coalition, linked the historical nature of the day with the current struggles. She described August 26, 1920 when the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution-Women's Suffrage-was passed and women won their right to vote. Fifty-seven years later, the fight is not over. She cited the organized disruption of the Washington International Women's Year Conference in Ellensburg as the latest in a series of attacks against the gains of the women's movement. She described the positive aspect of Ellensburg as, "the unity of Black, Hispanic, Asian, Native American, and white women around common concerns" in the face of a conservative attack on women. She mentioned broad support for the day including a representative from Governor Ray supporting women's rights.

The involvement of Black and other women of color was encouraged by Alberta Canada, a member of the Black Caucus and slated speaker for the August 27th Rally. Said Ms. Canada describing the importance of participation as Blacks and as women, "When I was a gleam in my father's eye, I was Black. The laws affecting Black women are unequally applied, we need the ERA to bolster our ceonomic rights." For this reason she said, "members of the Black caucus will strongly support the Rally."

A further note of unity was struck by Jan Secor, Executive Director of the Tacoma Y.W.C.A. Emphasizing the "Christian" in the title of her organization, she deplored the recent confusion in the media over whether or not Christians support women's rights. "Today women of all religions, races, and economic status are raising their voices again in appeal, in demand for their freedom of choice and dignity of equal rights," said Ms. Secor.

This appeal was echoed by Elaine Wong, Tacoma spokesperson for the Asian Caucus. She stated that Asian women were supportive of the day and that they, too, had concerns to share as women of color. In addition, she hoped to see lots of children present with their parent(s) on August 27th so that the real commonality of concerns and experience would be seen by women of the "blue and white" contingent to Ellensburg. All the speakers expressed the hope that there would be a loarge turn out for the August 27th March and Rally to Defend Women's Rights. For more information call Linda Malanchuk at 565-3297.

Congressman Dicks Meets With Common Cause

Does Congress represent the people, or special interest groups?

That question of varying opinions was addressed by Congressman Norm Dicks last night when he met with the 6th District Common Cause citizen's lobby at Tacoma Community College.

Dicks emphasized unprededented Congressional approval of a tough new ethics code, public financing of political campaigns and an adamant freshman class of Congress, determined to require full disclosure in the current Korean scandal in Congress.

"In the 95th Congress we voted for the toughest ethics code of any legislative body in the world," Dicks said. "It improves current full financial disclosure requirements, it tightens limitations on gifts and outside earned income, it abolishes unofficial office accounts, puts new restrictions on the use of postal franking privileges and prohibits foreign travel by 'lame-duck' members."

But, Dicks said the code alone does not go far enough, and urged Congressional passage of a public financing bill to eliminate reliance on campaign contributions from special interest groups.

"John Gardner (former director of Common Cause) said Congress must remove itself from the category of a purchasable comodity," said Dicks. "Until we extend public financing to congressional elections, there will continue to be members in congress who will still find it natural to accept support of special interest groups to keep them in power."

The Tacoma Democrat, who is a sponsor of the House bill to extend public financing to congressional elections--as it is now extended to presidential elections--said he is disappointed that the Senate scrapped a similar bill last month, but he is encouraged the House will pursue such legislation during this session "to renew the prospects of this bill."

Dicks told the citizen's lobby that there have been instances in history of abuse of power in government over the years, "but I can count on my fingers the number of times I have been aware of any member conspicuously involved in such an abuse in the eight years I worked for Sen. Warren Magnuson and the seven months I have been a member of Congress."

He said the public's apparent blanket contempt for the whole of Congress is unfair.

"As a group I regard members of the House and Senate to be among the most devoted, most caring, most informed and hardest working human beings I have ever known," he said.

Dicks said the freshman class of Congress will work to assure that a full disclosure is made of the Korean scandal, which alledges members of Congress accepted favors of a representative of the Korean government. He praised the appointment of former Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski to head the investigation and said he expects all information surrounding the allegations will be made public.

PNB BEGINS DIRECTORY DELIVERY

Pacific Northwest Bell began delivery of 1977-78 telephone directories in the Tacoma area on August 16, according to PNB district manager Roger Turppa.

Approximately 220,500 directories will be delivered in Tacoma within a three-week period.

The cover on the new directories features a wrap-around view of the San Juan Islands at sunset by Everett photographer Ed Cooper.

In connection with the delivery of the new phone books, the Tacoma Area Lions Clubs will be coordinating the collection and recycling of last year's directories. Proceeds from the "Operation Phone Book" will go to various Lions community service activities with emphasis on sight conservation.

Enclosed in the new directories is a leaflet with a list of locations where old phone books can be dropped off for recycling.

"By simply contributing old telephone books customers can make two valuable contributions; one will aid the Lions in their efforts to improve our community and the other is a contribution to the environment through recycling paper," Turppa said.

Turppa asked customers to note a few changes in the new directory, including those on the "Emergency" page, located on the inside front cover of the book. He called attention to the new listing for Steilacoom Police, 588-4600, and the toll free number for Forest Fire Reports, 1-800-562-6010. Others include Ashford County Fire District No. 23, "Other Business" number changed to 569-2539, and Eatonville No. 15 "Other Business" number changed to 1-832-6931.

Information on Tacoma's new PhoneCenter Stores is located in the Call Guide section toward the front of the directory. PNB's business office numbers for residential service, 627-5161, and business service, 597-5571, and an updated list of payment agencies throughout the Tacoma area are also included in this section.

A Consumer Information Guide in the book includes details on the Directory Assistance charge plan and information in billing and special services, Turppa said. The section also details the rights and responsibilities of phone compnay customers and PNB's credit and collection policies.

Turppa said that customers who have not received a new directory by mid-September should contact the local business office.

MCTF Spotlights Politics, Day Care, Housing Issues

Minority Concerns Task Force commissioned its political committee to move rapidly on a community priorities position paper. The paper will be distributed to local political candidates prior to the September primaries for comment. The body set aside a tentatively scheduled candidates' night in favor of alerting especially mayoral, councilmanic and schoolboard candidates to pressing issues in affirmative action, housing, education, economic development and day care. Committee members include Harriet Williams, Virginia Taylor and Judie Fortier.

The body continued to monitor the transition of the Hilltop Day Care Center. Skip and Chris Williams reported that a Seattle based property management firm, Abie Label, Inc. has taken charge of land, building, equipment and 12 to 20 thousand dollars operating deficit from the Episcopal Diocese of Olympia. Label has promised to keep the debt plagued center open a minimum of six months with intensified parent support. Parents continue to meet seeking alternative financing to avoid increasing day care charges to families using the Center. Reverend William Mitchell commented that at least two groups have been identified who want to provide day care to low income folks. They will be organizing and analyzing the economic impact of closing the Hilltop facility.

Alberta Canada reported on the Hilltop Housing Committee's drive to convert $[illegible],000 in demolition grants to housing rehabilitation grants. The committee scaled another hurdle when City Attorney Robert Hamilton agreed to revise a resolution to the City Council. The document emphasized converting the demolition grants to rehabilitation low interest loans through the Housing Development Program (HDP). This is the only program in housing rehabilitation that includes grants for low and moderate income people. The Committee is urging the City to expand availability of grants especially to people not living in community development target areas.

Ms. Canada urged Hilltop neighbors to attend the City Council meeting August 16 at 5:00 p.m. to support the first reading of the resolution. Support must also be vocal August 23 when the Council votes on converting the funds. She stated, "I would like the City Council to look up and see at least 100 Hilltop neighbors fighting for the recognition our neighborhood deserves."

LAW ENFORCEMENT YOUTH CAMP

Youth from throughout Pierce County will receive a unique experience in the coming weeks as they participate in the Fifth Annual Police-Youth Camp.

The week-long camping experience has been sponsored by the Tacoma Police Department, Pierce Sheriff's Department and Youth Services Bureau in previous years, but this marks the first year other agencies are also participating in a new venture. The sponsors of the camp incorporated and created the Law Enforcement Youth Camp earlier this year. As a result of that move, youngsters from other municipalities will also be involved as will police officers from other agencies.

The objective of the program is to provide a close working relationship with youngsters and law enforcement officers. While many of the youngsters are pre-delinquent or have had problems within their communities or schools, delinquency is not a pre-requisite for attendance.

A total of 72 youngsters will be involved in the camp sessions which, this year, will be located at Staircase in the Olympic National Park. Hiking, fishing, sports and other close fellowship activities will, hopefully, develop more social youth in the communities and correct errant behavioral patterns in those youngsters who are pre-delinquent. Previous campers have developed a close rapport with their law enforcement counselors and for many, the relationships have continued for several years.

"We honestly believe the camping experience develops a mutual respect and understanding between the officers and youth," commented Inv. Dick Geyer, Tacoma Police Department, who is the chairman of the Board of Directors for the Law Enforcement Youth Camp. "Everyone learns something from the experience and each other. We have found the youths of previous camps have developed a greater respect for themselves and the social system in which they live."

PPO Lee Revelle, Program Director, said the support received by the various administrators "has been overwhelming. Everyone feels this is a good program and one which merits a commitment from the administrators' point of view in terms of releasing officers to participate in the camp, on a voluntary basis."

The joint venture began in 1976 when Pierce County Sheriff George Janovich and Tacoma Chief of Police William Perrett joined forces in supporting the program with personnel and equipment. The two administrators said they felt the program was a success and "has far reaching impact with the various communities."

Some of the funding for the program's maintenance is obtained through the Youth Services Bureau and by congributions from the participating agencies' personnel. Equipment and supplies are donated from all sectors of the population including the military.

The counselor/youth ratio is held to a 1:3 constant to insure that each youngster receives individual attention and guidance. Follow-up contacts and smaller outings are made during the remainder of the year to continue to develop the realtionships fostered in the camps.

This year's participants include youth and officers from Orting, Fife, both military installations, Pierce County Sheriff's Department and the Tacoma Police Department. Twelve counselors are in each camp to provide the direction needed for the 36 youngsters who range in ages from 8 through 11. Both boys and girls attend the camp after being carefully screened by the LEYC Directors and following discussions with each child's parents.

The first camp begins August 8 and the second starts August 15. Buses depart from Cheney Stadium parking lot in Tacoma early in the morning of each starting day and return the following Saturday about mid-afternoon.

SCAM Reps to Visit Landlord

TocFacts Aug 17 77

Representatives of the SCAM neighborhood are visiting Dr. Murphy today at 3 p.m. at his office in the Medical Arts Building to talk to him, and if necessary, to distribute informational flyers to endeavor to get him to clean up his eight lots between 9th and 10th on South L Street. Two and one half years ago he had his property manager, John Hill, level the homes on these lots and has refused to do any maintenance since - now they are filled with trash and garbage (we have even found full suitcases there); playing children have been injured on the cement stairs and foundations.

Besides being a haven for vagrants, molesters, and rodents, the tall grass and bushes found on the lots have become a tinder dry fire hazard. We have called and written to Dr. Murphy asking him to meet with us concerning the condition of his lots -- he has refused to meet with us or to clean the lots. We find this action today to be our only recourse given his apparent lack of concern.
